LOOKED TO THE FUTURE. Wise Man Who Took Time by the

He drifted into the real estate agent's ffice and, after looking over the on which were posted notices of vari-

ons bargains, he said:
"I notice that you advertise a number of large, roomy flats for rent at reasonable rates."
"Yes, sir," replied the affable clerk:

'we have some fine ones in choice tions. How much would you be willing to pay"

"O, well," said the inquirer, "it's not so much a question of price as it is of getting exactly the accommodations

"Under those circumstances," as serted the clerk, confidently, "I am satisfied that we can suit you. Now there's a nice ten-room flat with all—"Anything with only three rooms?"
interrupted the inquirer.

The evidence sceme, conclusive. But the lawyer, loyal to the interests of his client and determined to save bim is possible, in spite of his villainous, rum onked countenance, made a final appeal to the jury.

peal to the jury.

The appeal was not for mercy. It was for justice. It was as follows:

Geatlemen of the jury, you have heard the evidence in this care against my clean. I will not characterize it as perjured evidence. I will only ask you gentlemen of the jury, to look upor my client's face, and say under your onths and upon your conscience whether you can believe that if a man with that face had a pint of whisky he could be induced to sell it for any price."-Boston Herald

THE CHINESE EMPIRE.

In the culture and sale of the aromat ic leaves from which is made "the cup that cheers but not inebriates," there are over one hundred millions of Chi nese employed.

SHOULD a man in China be unfortunate enough to save the life of another from drowning he is saddled with the expense of supporting the saved on for the remainder of that person's life THERE is an immense garden in China that embraces an area of 50,000 square miles. It is all meadow land and is filled with lakes, ponds and canals. Al-together it is as large as the states of New York and Pennsylvania combined THE Chinese make what is called Chi-wa-hi," or grass cloth, from the the root the common nettle. It is said to make a splendid cloth for tents, awnings, etc. When made into belting for machinery it is said to have twice the strength of leather.

The immense hospital Lariboisiere, at Paris, is reported to have been made al-most uninhabitable by immense numbers of rats infesting the building. A patient that had been at the hospital writes to a paper: "A fortnight ago a writes to a paper: "A fortnight ago rat jumped at the throat of a patient is Jumped at the throat of Ambroise-Pare hall during the ht. Poisca was laid, and a few the odor filled the night. days later a terrible odor filled the whole place. The floors had to be taken up and dead rats by the hundreds were taken out. The hospital authorities made a contract with a professional rat catcher, who started operations at once. But little relief has as yet come to the institution. The warden of the the place told a reporter that the bos-pital authorities did all they could to obtain relief, but as yet prospects were rather gloomy.

It's an Ill Wind, Etc. In July, 1888, came that terrible ex-plosion in Japan which blew the moun-tain of Bandai San into the air, killintain of Bandai San into the air, killin-many people, while the fragments of the shattered mountain falling into the rivers dammed them so completely that three large lakes were formed. The agricultural land was ruined by the ashes and lava that covered it. The great calamity seems to be providing its own compensation, for most of the men of that district have turned their attention to fishing in the three new laites, which are said to teem with fislaites, which are said to teem with fis of various kinds. They are thus beginning to recoup themselves in a measurfor the loss they sustained by the erup tion.

for the loss they sustained by the eruption.

A Kansas Project.

The word's fair board for Kansas is promoting a plan whereby it is expected that the expense of erecting the exposition building for that state will be borne by school pupils. The proposition is to have all of the schools in the state observe a "world's fair day," by holding an entertainment with music, recitations, tableaux, etc., to which a small entrance fee will be charged. The proceeds are expected to be sufficient to pay for the state building. Over the entrance of the structure it is proposed to lave the words: "Erected by the School Children of Kansas."

The Sparrow's Enemy.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says the English sparrow has a mortal enemy in the common red-headed woodpecker who, though no giant among birds, is as big as half a dozen English sparrows and not afraid of half a hundred. The woodpecker's beak is so hard and his head and neck are so powerful that in a single peck he can kill a sparrow, and the English birds have become aware of his powers and are very much afraid of him. The appearance of a red-headed woodpecker will set a whole flock of sparrows to flight, and the only time they will face him is when he makes an or set on their nests. The eggs of th row are not larger than peas and their young about the size of grubworms, and a nestful of young sparrows is a dainty picnic for a woodpecker, which he is careful not to overlook. The sparrows will fight, but they cannot drive him

An Enemy Baffed.

There is an enemy with whom thousands are familiar all their lives, because they are born with a tendency to biliousness. With this enemy they are constantly battling with ineffec tual weapons. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will baffle it. Mere purgatives will not reform a disordered condition of the liver, indicated, not by constipation alone, but also by sick headsches, yellowness of the skin and eye balls, nauses, furred tongue and uneasiness, more particularly upon pres sure on the right side upon and below the short ribs. Avoid drastic purgatives, which gripe and weaken the intestines, and substitute this world famous anti-bilious cordial, which improves appetite, sleep and the abil ity to digest, and possesses the additional advantage of a standard ton

Are the Best

Unlike other cathartics, the effect of Ayer's Pills is to strengthen the excretory organs and restore to them their regular and natural action. Doctors everywhere prescribe them. In spite of immense compe-tition, they have always maintained their popularity as a family medicine, being in greater demand now than ever before. They are put up both in vials and boxes, and whether for home use or travel, Aver's Pills are preferable to any other. Have you ever tried them?
